

Easy is Over.

For the past five years, outperformance was within easy reach of investors. As the Fed winds down its easing program, only the exceptionally skilled active manager will prevail in generating excess return.

TCW's long-tenured investment teams have been proven through many market cycles. Rigorous fundamental research, disciplined risk analysis, and market expertise, across asset classes, position TCW as an industry leader.

Proudly managing over $53 billion in our TCW and MetWest Fund families.

Proven results. Confidence for the future.
